Judge Morrow was born of Germanfrish parentage in Fleming county in Paints, Oils, 1835 and moved to Boyle in 1848, where in 1855 at Centre College, he graduated in a class, each member of which has since attained reputations more or less national. The following year he graduated in the Transylvania Law School Joshua F. Bell. In 1858 he was elected county attorney and in 1861, as a coertionist he recruited in part the 32d Kentucky Infantry and served as its lieutenant colonel for nine months, after w hich he was elected a representative from Pulaski county. In 1865 he was chosen State senator, which position he held four years. He was a delegate to the National republican convention in 1876 and elector for the State-at-large. SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., - OCTOBER 18, 1892

W. P. WALTON.

EVERY FRIDAY.

SENATOR BRECKINRIDGE and A. K. Denny, Esq., spoke at Crab Orchard Saturday and the former spent Sunday here. In response to a question of his vote against the re-enactment of the election bill, the Senator said: "I voted against it because, in the first place, I regard it as entirely unnecessary, it having been constitutionally passed before. Then it prescribes ex post facto penalties and has the absurdity of ordering things to be done in August and other dates past, all of which would render it nugatory as well as unconst itutional. Had the bill been re-enacted as soon as we went back in extraordinary session, I should have voted for it, without question, but at this date, in the shape that it is in, its passage is a reflection on the intelligence of any legislative body." We are glad to give the Senator's side of the case, as we like him too well to want to see him dig his political grave, as without this explanation he seemed to be fast doing.

THE apathy of the democrats in this county is becoming alarming and unless something is done a very light vote will be polled. The republicans, on the other hand, are organizing nightly and will as usual, poll their full strength. We are on the eve of a very important election and we beg of our friends to bestir themselves. Lincoln county must give Claveland, McCreary, Saufley and Owsley 500 majority or more and it will if the democrats will wake up. It is just three weeks from the election, but much can be done in that time and we hope every democrat will feel it encumbent upon him to go to work.

The republican convention at Danville nominated Capt. Wm. Herndon for circuit judge, but made no nomination for commonwealth's attarney, so our fortunate young townsman, Mr. John Sam Owsley, Jr., will be accorded an-Judge Saufley will have a practical walk- 4th-class post-offices throughout the other walk-over. HON. WAYNE McVEAGH, a member of Garfield's cabinet, made a rousing speech for Cleveland and tariff reform in Philadelphia Saturday. THE lecture of Rev. Wallace Tharp, to having stolen a lot of turkeys from at the Christian church, next Thursday night, promises to be well attended. Several young ladies are selling tickets and they never fail to make the man they tackle buy. The proceeds are for a good cause and if Mr. Tharp prove as entertaining a lecturer as he is regarded as a preacher it will be well worth patronizing. Misses Sue Baughman and Nora Moreland had sold about $20 worth of tickets each to last evening.

THE RIGHT KIND OF A DEMOCRAT .-Judge R. J. Breckinridge spoke at Crab Orchard last Saturday in behalf of the principles of the democratic party and especially in advocacy of the election of Judge Saufley. As was to be expected. his speech was strong, fervid and instructive. If all democrats were as loval to party organization and as devoted hunt tactics, so popular with the repub to the success of party principles as Judge Breckinridge we would be in better shape. His conduct in this campaign is just admirable, and nothing short of it.

> SOMERSET COURT. - Judge Morrow tells us that there were seven penitentiary convictions at his late court in Somerset in terms of two years to two years and ten months. He refused a new trial to Ex-Mayor Higgins, who got two years for detaining Miss Woods, and an appeal was taken. A suit, which created a great sensation, was that of W. T. Gossett against Dr. E. R. Rice, for charging him with sodomy. The doctor plead justification and produced the woman who swore she saw the act, but the jury mulcted him in $5,000 and costs. Hon. R. C. Warren was of counsel for the defendant. The authorities have engaged a noted Cincinnati detective to hunt down Anderson, the assassin of Editor Rucker, but not much of a clue has so far been found.

A Dastardly Deed.—Sunday night a man got on passenger train No. 25 at Corbin with a ticket for Williamsburg, after raising a row with the agent for not selling him one to Pleasant View, where he wanted to get off. He was on the platform between the ladies' car and the sleeper, when Capt. Harry Chambers, conductor, came along. WHAT I LIVE FOR

I live for those that love me, For those I know are true. For the heaven that smiles above me, And awaits my spirit, too;

Far all human ties that bind me. For the task my God assigned me, For the bright hopes left behind me, And the good that I can do.

I live to learn their story, Who've suffered for my sake-To emulate their glory,

And follow in their wake; Bards, martyrs, patriots, sages, The noble of all ages, Whose deeds crown History's pages, And time's great volume make.

I live to hail that season By gifted minds foretold,

When men shall live by reason. And not alone for gold; When man to man united. And every wrong thing righted, The whole world shall be lighted,

As Eden was of old. I live to hold comunion With all that is divine-

To feel that there is union Twist Nature's head and mine: To profit by affliction,

Reap truth from fiends of fiction, Grow wiser from conviction-Fulfilling God's design. I live for those that love me,

For those that know me true. For the heaven that smiles above me, And awaits my spirit, too; For the wrongs that need resistance, For the cause that needs assistance,

For the future in the distance,

And the good that I can do. From the selections of the editor's dear, dead vife, and printed in loving memory of her.)

The Tariff Tax.

Whenever a man, woman or child has a dollar to expend for any manufactured article of comfort or necessity, an invisible tax gatherer stands beside the seller of the goods and now demands of the purchaser 47 cents of that dollar as a tribute to the protected manufacturer of like goods. The purchasing power of the dollar is thus reduced to 53 cents. The effect of this proceeding is to reduce the actual available income of a wage-earner, who is paid $2 per day, to $1.06. In the face of this fact, the republican party declares that a protective tariff tax, operating as above stated, increases the wages, and, consequently, the prosperity of the laboring man. A tariff tax is necessary to meet the expenses of the government; but it is not necessary that this tax should exceed the requirements of the government, economically administered, in order that a special class of monopolists may be enriched. Therefore, it is wrong to tax the poor man 47 cents on every dollar of his wages, for the sake of protection to monopoly, when 30 cents would be sufficient for revenue to meet the expenses of the government. This is the tariff issue, and all there is in it, which directly concerns the poor man .-Frankfort Capital.

The Force Bill. Carl Shurtz, formerly a distinguished republican, thus speaks of the force bill: "The inevitable effect of the enactment of the force bill, or anything like it, would be the revival of the fear of negro domination in the South, and with it a violent and disastrous disturbance of the relations between the two races, which in the course of time, have shaped thempastor and it seems likely to remain so. selves in a friendly manner, highly advantageous to the general prosperity. In view of all this, I must confess that whatever specious pretenses may be put forward as to the objects of the measure, I look upon the force bill as one of the most reckless, most cruel, most revolting partisan contrivances ever devised. I know the republicans are rartfully disclaiming that the force bill is an issue in this campaign. Mr. Harrison himself tries to evade it in his letter of acceptance by an adroitly, soft spoken recom-

Stanford, Ky.

I have quite a number of FARMS for sale of the very best B ue-Grass Lands in Lincoln county. These Farms are all well improved and good rich lands, running in size from 50 to 500 Acres. Considering theis locality, their richness and fertility of soil, the convenience of turnpikes and railroads that bring markets right to our door, they are cheaper than the Lands of any other county, in the State. There is scarcely a Farm in the coun-ty over 5 miles from a depot. The county is checked with turnpikes running inevery direction. There is not a public road entering the county seat that is not Macadamized. We have the Knoxville Branch of the L. & N. R. R. dividing the county from East to West and the C. S. R. R. from North to South; the K. C. R. R. from this place to Cincinnati, crossing the C. & O. at Winchester, giving full access to the markets of the whole world. Besides, we have three large Flour Mills in the county that give us a market for all our grain right at home: and the developfor all our grain right at home; and the develop-ment of the mountain regions of Eastern and South-eastern Kentucky by sailroads and the outlet South by railroads has created such a demand for all kinds of cereals and provender that we can scarcely retain enough for home consumption. The people are prosperous, generous and kind believing in Christianity and education. There is not a neighborhood in the county but has a good church and school-house.

Stanford, the county seat of Lincoln, is a pros-perous little city of about 2,500 mhab, tants and is the great doorway from the North and North-east South and from the Northwest to Southeast, and standing as it does gazing right into the bos-om of the undeveloped mountains of Southeastern Kentucky backed up by the whole Blue-Grass region of the State with railroads running through it to all points of the compass, makes it naturally one of the best located towns in the South for manifactures and other enterprises of magningle. nannfactures and other enterprises of magnitude without any exaggeration or coloring, as those who know will bear ne out, and those who wish to buy pleasant homes at tair prices and locate among a good people with all the best surroundings would do well to call and see me before pur chasing elsewhere
